crop signs from space a future cultural world heritage

this extraordinary mega-exhibition presents a selection of more than 300 of the most important, most complex and most beautiful designs of the mysterious crop circles. these patterns have been appearing for more than 30 years in wheat and other crop fields in south england and close to 50 countries around the world. huge panels with air and ground view photographs, sculptures & 3d-objects, paintings, bas-reliefs, digital & mechanical animations, artistic graphical depictions and geometrical renderings are shown within a dozen theme rooms, giving an overview from the beginning of this in its core still inexplicable phenomenon up to the newest pictograms of last summer. although possibly one third of the highly ornamental shapes - there are more than 5000 documented crop imprints worldwide - are man made, the other forms stand up to more or less scientific investigations, be they physical, biochemical or mathematical analyses. despite prejudiced mass media information these happenings in the fields are truly indisputable serious contact attempts of a higher consciousness with mankind. in addition to this the exhibition exclusively shows astonishing newest decodings.

it is the world's one and only existing comprehensive exhibition about the crop circle phenomenon displayable in spaces from 500* up to 1500 square meters. this astonishing show was created by austrian researcher jay goldner & the phoenix group, consisting of works from two dozen crop circle experts and artists of various countries, giving newest insights into the truth behind this profound and highly aesthetic interdimensional communication.
